Has the People's Bank project sunk into oblivion?

POLYNESIAN Encampment meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The skating rink will be open to-night for ladies and their escorts.

There is no change in the condition of the Rev. Dr. Damon to-day. He is just alive.

Two natives had a rough and tumble fight last evening on Nuuanu street, all about a match.

There will be a magic lantern exhibition at the Government school house at Waialua, this evening.

The Royal Hawaiian Band will give its usual concert at Emma Square to-morrow afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

An old native chap, by the name of Mahina, was fined $50 this morning for practising medicine among the natives without a license.

The Board of Health office is now in the building lately occupied by the Tax collector, who has moved into the new Kapuniwa building.

Mrs. W. H. Aldrich has resigned her position as a teacher in the Royal School, and Miss Mist has been appointed to the vacancy.

A GANG of prisoners are out at work at Kakaako Leper Hospital, filling in the large fish pond in the rear of the grounds with sand, etc., carted from the beach.

MESSRS. Hackfeld & Co. are expecting daily by the bark Meteor, some of those patent iron filter presses, such as have been used with so much success at the Lahaina and Kekaha Mills.

THAT fine span of driving horses from the Alexander Ranch, Maui, will be sold at noon to-morrow by Mr. E. P. Adams. They are sound in every respect.

The following have been re-elected officers of Engine Co. No. 4: Foreman and Treasurer, Col. J. H. Boyd; First Assistant, Peter Souxa; Second Assistant, D. Kekulu; Secretary, S. K. Kamaka.

The following have sent in claims for damages on account of the widening of Fort and Hotel streets: Mr. A. J. Cartwright for H. M. Queen Emma; Hon. C. R. Bishop for Hon. Dr. Mott Smith; Messrs. Fishel, McChesney and McColligan.

The usual monthly reception held yesterday by H. R. H. Princess Liliuokalani, was very largely attended. The Royal Hawaiian Band was stationed in front of the residence and discoursed excellent music.

In the Police Court this morning, J. Paddaken, for disorderly conduct, was sent over the reef for twelve hours. One drunk forfeited bail of $6. Chung Wa, for having opium in possession, was remanded until the 13th.

ABOUT half past two o'clock yesterday afternoon, a Chinese express driver was driving up Nuuanu Street rather carelessly, when near Hollister's old store he ran over a small Chinese child, playing on the road. Some Chinamen picked up the child and carried it into the house, but it had not received any injuries.

We have had to complain several times of trees overhanging the road on Judd Street. There is a very large Bouganvillea vine which so overhangs the road as to be quite a nuisance to pedestrians, especially in wet weather, as it reaches within three feet of the ground. Something should be done at once on this street, and not let us have any more complaints.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Control of the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association, last evening, it was decided to request Professor Agassiz to deliver a lecture for the Association's benefit. Mr. Marques announced the receipt of valuable contributions to the musical department of the Library from Mr. Berger, our Bandmaster; Mr. Grey, of San Francisco; Messrs. Ditson & Co., Boston; and Mr. Schott, London. Mr. Marques was authorized to do what he deemed best for securing local contributions to the same department.

Mr. J. W. Hingley, so well known as the late proprietor of the Pioneer Cigar Manufactory, has opened a store at 84 King street, where he will be glad to see all his old patrons and new ones too. He keeps a large assortment of genuine imported Havana and Manila cigars, and different brands of the finest domestic cigars. Smokers will find cigarettes, tobacco and every requisite.

Opium smoking among natives and white people appears to be on the increase. A sad case was heard in the Police Court this morning. Jacob Kamaka, a very respectable connected native, and Wm. Moore, an express driver, were charged with having opium in possession. It appears Moore used to go frequently to Kamaka's house for the purpose of smoking. His Honor gave each a very seasonable lecture, and hoped the sentence he should impose would be a lesson, and also cure them of such a vile habit. Kamaka was then sentenced to one month's imprisonment at hard labor, and fined $50, while Moore was given forty days, and $50 fine. Moore noted an appeal to the Intermediate Court.

The white express drivers seem to think if they are hired to take a passenger up Nuuanu Valley and the said passenger stops at the second bridge, pays the fare, a quarter, and gets out, it is not right. If they only live a few steps beyond the bridge they should ride and then they could get half-a-dollar. Passengers can do as they please. The other day a lady residing on Judd Street hired a hack, getting out at the bridge and walking the rest of the way home. The driver abused her in pretty round language. If expressmen are going to demand such consideration of the public as all that, they should be prepared to abate the strict tenor of the rules when the latter work the other way. For instance, when they drive a passenger over a short route on both sides of a regulation line, they might do it for the fare charged for a greater distance within the limits. But they do not.

A TERRIBLE accident happened at the Waianae Plantation, day before yesterday, whereby a Portuguese laborer lost his life and another has received internal injuries. At this plantation there is a railroad, and one of the regulations is that the laborers must ride inside of the cars. Someone of them disobeyed this order on the day mentioned and were riding on the outside of the car near the edge, when the brake block dropped, shaking the car considerably, throwing two men between the cars, one of them receiving a fracture to the ribs from which he died yesterday. The other had his collar bone dislocated and was brought up on the steamer C. R. Bishop this afternoon and at once taken to the Queen's Hospital. Mr. J. L. Richardson, manager of the plantation, also came by the steamer. Everything possible has been done by him for the men.

EMMA SQUARE CONCERT.

The Band will play at Emma Square to-morrow afternoon at 4.30. The following is the programme:—

March—Suite.....Lachner

Overture—Tancrède.....Rossini

Waltz—Golden Myrtles.....Tahrbach

Three Songs.....Mendelssohn

Selection—Stradella.....Flotow

Gavotte—Welcome.....Kliss

Weeping-trees are at present a fashionable feature in landscape gardening. The following are a few of the most desirable varieties:—

Weeping-beech, cut-leaf weeping-birch, and common weeping-willow grow tall and from large trees. The Camperdown weeping-elm and Kilmock weeping-willow are dwarf trees, and never grow any higher than the point where grafted. Abies inervata, or weeping-spruce, is the best weeping-evergreen, and it is a very effective tree in a lawn.

It shows that faith in humanity is fast becoming an unknown quantity when a wife will believe a one dollar clock rather than her husband when the latter has told her it was only 11 o'clock when he came in last night, while the clock at that time struck 2.

In the German Reichstag, Jan. 19th, the Budget Committee moved that the proposed credit of 150,000 marks for African colonization be reduced one third. Bismarck opposed the motion and urged prompt action with regard to the colonization project of the Government in order to anticipate the other Powers. The German people, he said, had approved the colonial policy of the Government during the last two years, and it was reasonable to suppose the Reichstag would vote an additional credit for the African exploration. The colonial policy is the only one possible. It was supported by a majority of the Reichstag and had created great enthusiasm throughout the nation. A motion to refer the credit to the Budget Committee was adopted by 135 to 128, although both Bismarck and Von Boetticher, Minister of the Interior, strongly opposed this action.

A bevy of girls were looking at a bridal trousseau. "How exquisite!" "How lovely!" "How supremely sweet!" etc., ad nauseam, were the exclamations made. "You ought to be very happy, Clara," said one of the girls to the bride-elect. "I suppose I ought," said Clara, "but papa won't bring a newspaper reporter to look at them." Chorus—"What a shame!"

When little Willie L. first heard the braying of a mule in the South he was greatly frightened, but after thinking a minute he smiled at his fear, saying: "Mamma, just hear that poor horse wiv the whooping-cough!"

New York wholesale dealers now pay 15 cents per dozen for making undershirts and their liberality leads people to hope that servant girls in that city may possibly become millionnaires yet.

The Japanese girl when she goes into company paints her face white, her lips and the corners of her eyes red, with two slate-colored spots on her forehead.

The young ladies of a Pennsylvania town have formed a "Popping the Question Society." It is said the marriageable young men of the town are organizing an expedition to go in search of the North Pole.

C. O. BERGER, Esq., Agent Macneale & Urban Safes.

DEAR SIR,

It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the Fire-Proof qualities of your Safes.

I had a small single door Macneale & Urban Safe in last night's terrible fire, and, on opening the same this morning, found its contents—consisting of books, papers, and money to the amount of $1040—IN PERFECT CONDITION.

I am so well satisfied with the result that I want another No. 3 Safe at once.
